this book assesses the state of the art in computational fluid dynamics cfd applied to ship hydrodynamics and provides guidelines for the future developments in the field based on the gothenburg 2010 workshop it presents ship hull test cases experimental data and submitted computational methods conditions grids and results analysis is made of errors for global resistance sinkage and trim and self propulsion and local flow wave elevations and mean velocities and turbulence variables including standard deviations for global variables and propeller modeling for self propulsion the effects of grid size and turbulence models are evaluated for both global and local flow variables detailed analysis is made of turbulence modeling capabilities for capturing local flow physics errors are also analyzed for head wave seakeeping and forward speed diffraction and calm water forward speed roll decay resistance submissions are used to evaluate the error and uncertainty by means of a systematic verification and validation v v study along with statistical investigations post workshop experimental and computational studies are conducted and analyzed for evaluation of facility biases and to draw more concrete conclusions regarding the most reliable turbulence model appropriate numerical methods and grid resolution requirements respectively
